

G. O. P. AND PROGRESSIVES DISCUSS PEACE

CONFEREES HOLD 2 HOUR SESSION; REPORT PROGRESS

DISCUSSION OF CANDIDATES FOLLOWS JUST TWO LINES

Progressives Talk Only About Roosevelt—Republicans Suggest Names of Various Favorite Sons—Discussion Never Gets Beyond Generalities—Will Report to Respective Conventions This Morning.

CHICAGO, June 9.—The conferees of the Republican and Progressive parties adjourned at 12:30 a. m., after a two hour session, with the announcement that they would not meet again until after the sessions of the two conventions today. The only statement given out was that "we report progress."

Conference Entirely Harmonious. The conferees were unanimous in asserting that the conference was entirely harmonious. Discussion of candidates followed just two lines—the Progressives talked only about Colonel Roosevelt, the Republican conferees suggested the names of various favorite sons including Fairbanks, Burton, Root, Hughes and others, but reached no unanimous decision that they favored any one of them above the other. The entire range of discussion it was said never got beyond generalities.

While both sides reported "progress" the Republicans appeared to take a more optimistic view of the situation than some of the Progressives among those whom there was far from a unanimity of opinion that an agreement was probable.

It was agreed that the conferees should report to their respective conventions this morning. Neither side was at all sure that the convention which it represented could be controlled. It was understood that three ballots would be taken in the Republican convention and if without result, there should be a further conference tonight. If, however, as might very likely be the case, either or both conventions should make a nomination tomorrow all further negotiations would be impossible.

Report Proves Entire. Early in the evening there was a report that the Progressive conferees had offered the names of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and General Goethals and Leonard Wood as acceptable to them, but this proved to be untrue. No such suggestion was made.

With the understanding that they should report to their conventions and await the result of today's ballot, the conference adjourned after today's session of both conventions. It was hoped that the delegates to both the Republican and Progressive conventions would seize the opportunity to discuss the situation fully among themselves and if no definite action was taken on either side in the meantime, the committee would be this afternoon in far better position to understand and give expression to the real sentiment of the two conventions.

The Republican committee said that during the meeting they were distinctly encouraged by the evident desire of the Progressives for harmony. At no time, it was said, was there a concerted or insistent demand from the Progressives that the Republicans accept Colonel Roosevelt.

Not Sure of Another Meeting. Senator Smoot of the Republican committee said the conference was an open, free and friendly discussion. He added that the reports to the conventions would be identical. While Senator Borah and Mr. Crane said the conferees would probably reconvene this afternoon other members by no means sure that there would be another meeting. George W. Perkins, chairman of the Progressive committee, confirmed this view and added that none of the committeemen were quite free to talk. The conference was held at the Chicago Club, to which the Republican conferees preceded the Progressives. George W. Perkins, Governor Johnson, Horace Wilkinson, and other Progressive leaders conferred at Mr. Perkins' headquarters, where the long distance wire to Oyster Bay is located, until almost 10 o'clock, and then left for the club. Prior to the calling of the meeting on an upper floor of the club, the conferees posed for photographs.

Senator Borah and Governor Johnson came down the elevator together, chatting pleasantly. The other conferees followed in a few minutes and soon dispersed.

At the end of the session of the conference one of the conferees summed up the situation in this way: "We all agreed not to disclose the details of our meeting until reports are made to our prospective conventions tomorrow. I can say this, however. It has not changed the situation in respect to the problem of nomination of Justice Hughes by the Republican convention. A situation has been created by which Progressives in all probability will be willing to postpone the desire of the radical members to rush into a nomination of Colonel Roosevelt for the sole purpose of being the first to put a ticket in the field.

"There was absolute harmony so far as our personal relations were concerned and I believe we made for good feeling regardless of whether we accomplished the main purpose of coming together or not."

Republicans Accept Invitation.

Chicago, June 8.—The Republican convention today accepted the invitation of the Progressives to a conference for harmony. A proposal to that end, adopted first in the Progressive convention was received in the Republican convention and adopted with a few scattering "noes" and virtually no demonstration.

Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, Former Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, Nicholas Murray Butler of the New York delegation and Former Representative A. R. Johnson of Ironton, Ohio, were appointed as the Republican conference committee. They at once began arrangements for meeting the Progressives.

The complexion of the committee was generally regarded as one which would not accept Colonel Roosevelt for the presidential nomination but on the other hand would not insist upon an agreement of Justice Hughes.

Throws Nomination Into Uncertainty

The whole effect of the development was to throw the Republican nomination into uncertainty until the conferees report. The other principal developments in the Republican convention were the adoption of the platform as reported by the resolutions committee headed by Senator Lodge, a half minute demonstration for Colonel Roosevelt when his name was mentioned for the first time in the convention, the perfection of the permanent organization and adjournment until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Senator Lodge mentioned Colonel Roosevelt's name in reading the Philippine plank which declares for the policy inaugurated by McKinley and continued by Roosevelt and Taft. The demonstration that followed was principally in the galleries, altho it was joined by some delegates on the floor.

Senator Lodge, well identified as a personal friend of the colonel, smiled and waited and it subsided in less than a minute.

The outstanding incident of the day's session came with Senator Lodge's announcement of the woman suffrage plank.

"The Republican party, reaffirming its faith in government of the people, by the people and for the people, as a measure of justice to one half of the adult people of this country favors the extension of suffrage to women," read the senator and there he paused, while the suffragists began their demonstration. "But," continued Senator Lodge, when the noise subsided, it recognized

Republican Convention Platform

COLISEUM, Chicago, June 8.—Following is the report of the resolutions committee of the Republican convention:

"In 1861 the Republican party stood for the union. As it stood for the union of states, it now stands for an united people, true to American ideals, loyal to American traditions, knowing no allegiance except to the constitution, to the government and to the flag of the United States. We believe in American policies at home and abroad."

Protection of American Rights

"We declare that we believe in and will enforce the protection of every American citizen in all the rights secured by him by the constitution, treaties and the law of nations, at home and abroad, by land and sea. These rights, which in violation of the specific promise of their party made at Baltimore in 1912, the Democratic president and the Democratic congress have failed to defend, we will unflinchingly maintain."

Foreign Relations

"We desire peace, the peace of justice and right, and believe in maintaining a straight and honest neutrality between the belligerents in the great war in Europe. We must perform all our duties and insist upon all our rights as neutrals without fear and without favor. We believe that peace and neutrality as well as the dignity and influence of the United States cannot be preserved by shifty expedients, by phrase making, by performances in language, or by attitudes ever changing in an effort to secure groups of voters. The present administration has destroyed our influence abroad and humiliated us in our own eyes. The Republican party believes that a firm, consistent and courageous foreign policy always maintained by Republican presidents in accordance with American traditions, is the best as it is the only true way to preserve our peace and restore us to our rightful place among the nations. We believe in the pacific settlement of international disputes and favor the establishment of a world court for that purpose."

Mexican

"We deeply sympathize with the fifteen million people of Mexico who for three years have seen their country devastated, their homes destroyed, their fellow citizens murdered and their women outraged, by armed bands of desperadoes led by self-seeking, conscienceless agitators, who, when temporarily successful in any locality, have neither sought nor been able to restore order or establish and maintain peace."

"We express our horror and indignation at the outrages which are being perpetrated by these bandits upon American men and women who were or are in Mexico by the invitation of the laws of that country and whose rights to security of person and property are guaranteed by solemn treaty obligations. We denounce the indefensible methods of interference employed by this administration in the internal affairs of Mexico and refer with shame to its failure to discharge the duty of this country as next friend to Mexico, its duty to other powers who have relied upon us as such a friend and its duty to our citizens in Mexico, in permitting the continuance of such conditions, first by failure to act promptly and firmly and second, by lending its influence to the continuance of one of the factions responsible for these outrages."

"We pledge our all in restoring order and maintaining peace in Mexico. We promise to our citizens on and near our border and to those in Mexico, wherever they may be found, adequate and absolute protection in their lives, liberty and property."

Monroe Doctrine

"We reaffirm our approval of the Monroe Doctrine and declare its maintenance to be a policy of this country essential to its present and future peace and safety and to the

Latin-America

"We favor the continuance of Republican policies, which will result in drawing more and more closely the commercial, financial and social relations between this country and the countries of Latin-America."

Philippines

"We renew our allegiance to the Philippine policy inaugurated by McKinley, approved by congress and consistently carried out by Roosevelt and Taft. Even in this short time it has enormously improved the material and social conditions of the islands."

"We accepted the responsibility of the islands as a duty to civilization and the Filipino people. To leave with our task half done would break our pledges, injure our prestige among nations and imperil what has already been accomplished."

"We condemn the Democratic administration for its attempt to abandon the Philippines which was prevented only by the vigorous opposition of Republican members of congress aided by a few patriotic Democrats."

"We reiterate our unqualified approval of the action taken in December, 1911 by the President and Congress to secure with Russia, as with other countries, treaty that will recognize the absolute right of expatriation and prevent all discrimination of whatever kind between American citizens whether native-born or alien and regardless of race, religion or previous political allegiance. We renew the pledge to observe this principle and to maintain the task of asylum which is neither to be surrendered or restricted and we unite in the cherished hope, that the war which is now desolating the world may speedily end, with a complete and lasting restoration of brotherhood among the nations of the earth and the assurance of full equal rights, civil and religious, to all men in every land."

Protection of the Country

"In order to maintain our peace and make certain the security of our people within our own borders the country must have not only adequate and thoro and complete national defense, ready for any emergency. We must have a sufficient and effective regular army, and a provision for ample reserves already drilled and disciplined, who can be called at once to the colors when the hour of danger comes."

"We must have a navy so strong and so well proportioned and equipped, so thoroughly ready and prepared that no enemy can gain command of the sea and effect a landing in force on either our western or eastern coast. To secure these results we must have a coherent and continuous policy of national defense, which even in these perilous days the Democratic party has utterly failed to develop, but which we promise to give to the country."

Tariff

"The Republican party stands now and always has, in the fullest sense of the policy of tariff protection to American industries and American labor and does not regard an anti-dumping provision as an adequate substitute. Such protection should be reasonable in amount, but sufficient to protect adequately American industry and American labor and be so adjusted as to prevent undue extensions by monopolies or trusts. It should moreover, give special mention to securing the industrial independence of the United States as in the case of dyestuffs."

"Thru wise tariff and industrial legislation our industries can be so organized that they will become not only a commerce bulwark but a powerful aid to national defense."

"The Underwood tariff act is a complete failure in every respect. Under its administration imports have enormously increased in spite of the fact that intercourse with foreign countries has been largely cut off by reason of the war while the revenues of which we stand in such dire need have been greatly reduced. Under the normal conditions which prevailed prior to the war, it was clearly demonstrated that this act deprived the American producer and American wage earner of that protection which entitled them to meet their foreign competitors, and but for the adventitious conditions created by the war would long since have paralyzed all forms of American industry and deprived American labor of its just reward."

"It has not in the least reduced the cost of living which has constantly advanced from the date of its enactment. Welfare of our people demands its repeal and the substitution of a measure which in peace as well as in war will produce ample revenue and give reasonable protection to all forms of American production in mine, forest, field and factory."

"We favor the creation of a tariff commission with complete power to gather and compile information for the use of congress in all matters relating to the tariff."

Many Present and Former Jacksonville Citizens Prominent in Convention—Demonstration for Sherman is Biggest Thing of the Kind During the Convention.

(Special to the Journal.)

Chicago, Ill., June 8.—Rain, Rain, Rain, but not all of Neptune's floods could dampen the ardor of the thousands of people that thronged the Coliseum and Chicago's streets today on account of the Republican National Convention. Gather together all the population of Jacksonville, crowd them into a monster, flag decked hall and you have a picture of the Convention at work.

Addreses Avoid Personalities.

The morning session would have been one only of uninteresting detail had it not been for the speeches of those Republican veterans, Chauncey M. DePew of New York, and Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois, and that warrior of the present day, Senator Borah of Idaho. The convention went wild with enthusiasm as Senator DePew and Mr. Cannon talked of the past and Senator Borah of the present and future. All the addresses avoided personalities and dealt rather with the vital principles of Republicanism.

The keynote of each one was an Americanism greater than men and parties, broad enough to include any loyal citizen of the United States. The most significant feature of the afternoon session came when Chairman Harding read a communication suggesting that a committee of five be appointed to meet a like committee of Progressives. The enthusiasm which prevailed made it very clear that the vast majority of the delegates realize that the real hope for success in November is based on a harmony program. They know that a Republican president is about to be nominated and elected or nominated and defeated. The lesson of 1912 has not been forgotten. Following the expressed wish of the convention Chairman Harding appointed a committee of notable party leaders for the conference work. Senator Smoot, former Senator W. Murray Crane, Senator Borah, Nicholas Murray Butler, and former Congressman A. R. Johnson of Ohio. The dominant note tonight is the hope for peace. The hotel corridors buzz with peace talk and more than at any previous time the delegates are showing the desire to get together.

Several Jacksonville Men Present.

The fostering mother of political leaders? For answer take a look at this great convention for present and former citizens. There are ex Gov. Yates, Andrew Russell, Charles B. Graft and Edward Clifford, with the Illinois delegation, William H. Clifford, serving as a delegate from Texas, Horace H. Bancroft, prominent as a reading clerk, Hon. William J. Bryan in the press gallery and last but not least Frederick C. Tanner, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

You find him in his rooms at the Congress Hotel. Those rooms are not where this former Jacksonville citizen sleeps. He is there open-eyed, night and day, nurturing the campaign of Justice Hughes.

Tanner Real Hughes Manager.

Frank Hitchcock is the outside guard, the trumpeter. The real Hughes manager is Tanner. With him it is a conviction that the justice should be president. Four years ago he refused to come to Chicago except as an unattached delegate. He came and sought earnestly to bring to pass the nomination of Hughes but the conviction dates back further, yes to eight years ago for Tanner was a "Hughes for President" supporter then. So behold, you have the original Hughes man, the one to whom if Hughes is nominated the greatest share of honor will belong and all but about 10 years of his life were spent in Jacksonville, then he went to New York to show them "how" in both law and politics. They say Justice Hughes name will be presented without a nomination speech and the managers will depend on Hughes sentiment to do the rest.

The demonstration for Sherman at the Congress Hotel tonight was the biggest thing of the kind during the convention. Conspicuous was our "Lincoln" and "Hamlin banner and a live baby elephant with the legend "Sherman and the United Party" printed on his blanket. Speeches were made by ex-Gov. Yates, Congressman Foss, Mansfield and Britten.

BURN AMERICAN CONSULATE.

El Paso, Texas, June 8.—The American consulate at Durango City, Durango was destroyed by fire during anti-American demonstrations, according to information received here by army officers tonight. The rioters applied a torch to the building after dragging the flag thru the streets.

SQUABBLE OVER SUFFRAGE

(By Samuel G. Blythe)
(Copyright 1916 By Central Press Association)

CHICAGO, June 8.—Colonel Roosevelt telegraphed today at some length to an inquiring person named Jackson located somewhere in this moist city, and an earnest and amateur seeker for harmony, that he will be pleased to come to Chicago and address the Republican National Convention. The colonel is a stickler for proprieties. His only condition was that he shall be formally invited by the gentlemen who are running said convention.

May Have to Forego Pleasure.

Unfortunately the engraving shops in this city are pressed with work at the present time, owing to June weddings and commencements and such, and it was discovered that suitable engraved cards of invitation cannot possibly be secured before the middle of next week, hence, much to their lasting regret, the gentlemen whom the colonel invited to invite him do not see how they can extend the summons in proper and appropriate form and, deep as they deplore it, may be compelled to forego the extreme pleasure of allowing the convention to hear the colonel say a few words of encouragement, uplift and cheer to the boys who are seeking harmony with battle axes, hand-grenades, howitzers, clubs and bombs, to say nothing of poisonous gases which are noisily enveloping the situation as midnight rapidly approaches in this habitation of the cross and the double cross. However that doesn't mean that the colonel hasn't been invited to come to Chicago. If one could garner to oneself the total amount of money spent for telegraph and telephone tolls between Chicago and Oyster Bay used in the transmission of beseechments to the colonel to hop the first train and come out here and reduce chaos to order by sweeping the Republican Convention off its feet and searing those recalcitrant anti-Roosevelt boys, of which that convention is largely composed, into voting for him—if, to repeat, one could garner to oneself the amount of toll money one would not need to work for many a lazy and luxurious day.

Colonel Hasn't Budged Yet

They have besought the colonel in every way known to expert beseechers and he won't budge or, to make it safer, he hasn't budged yet. He listened to this sort of invitation four years ago, as will be remembered, and what he started then hasn't stopped and won't until this present convention has adjourned.

The leaders to whom the colonel addressed his hint for an invitation, thought Mr. Jackson, who thus for the first time, bargained satisfactory into the public prints, have long and prehensible memories but they are deterred from inviting the colonel, he might sweep their Convention off its feet. The colonel didn't do that four years ago, and there was only a few votes margin against his sweeping enterprise and this year there are hundreds. Only the formalities restrain them, so, it looks as if the colonel will have to do his sweeping at long range so far as the Republicans are concerned. No sweeping-off-their-feet process is needed by the Progressive brothers,

A party platform should have few planks and those sound and well seasoned.

The Republican platform makers seem not to have overlooked the fact that the paramount issue in this campaign is Americanism, combined with adequate preparedness to uphold and maintain it against any and all foes.

Vice President Should Be Strong Man

There is a danger that, in the anomalous situation at Chicago, unprecedented in the history of any party in American politics, too little consideration is being given to the nomination of a candidate for vice president, asserts the Saint Louis Globe-Democrat. We hear nothing of any discussion of men well enough fitted to become president is to warrant their selection to that post where, under the constitution, they would become president in the event of the death or disability of the incumbent. Even in the depths of present travail, the delegates at Chicago appear willing again to leave the nomination for second place open to chance or accident; again to let some exigency of state politics dictate the selection of a candidate who, although chosen in the expectation that he will serve as a figurehead in the senate, may, any day during four years, become president of the United States. Surely the Republican party has chewed and is now chewing the root of a bitter experience hard enough to teach the lessons whose experience is said to teach those who can learn in no other school.

It is not necessary to call a roster of names of Republicans well fitted to become president by constitutional succession, in order to point and emphasize this party and public duty. What the party owes to the country is something more than the nomination of a candidate for president. It owes to the country the nomination of a candidate for second place who, succeeding to first place, would carry into it the fine attributes of the man he succeeds. Let both candidates be of presidential size. The Republican party is not so poor in presidential timber that it cannot find more than one such man. The fact that the vice president is a possible president should never be lost sight of, and his selection should not be hurriedly and thoughtlessly made at the last moment. He should be and can be an addition of strength to the ticket, a man whose name is

THE MISFIT

Breathes there a man with soul so tame, that when the home team wins a game, he doesn't throw a fit? Who doesn't help to make a noise, or take his place among the boys who on the bleachers sit? If such there be, go, set him down as an incubation to the town, a brake upon its wheel; for any fellow is a crime who doesn't at the baseball time a glow of rapture feel. If he can view unmoved the score which shows us how the home team bore the foemen off the map, the soul within him is decayed; our councilmen should take a spade and plant that kind of chap. For he's the man who always grunts when we'd put on improvement stunts, and pave the village streets, who always beefs about his tax, and sticks to pennies tight as wax, and prices downward beats. He is the skate who never gives much satisfaction while he lives, whose worth we can't discern; but when at last he cashes in, the people raise a joyful din, and costly fireworks burn.

June 9, 1765—A detachment of British troops under Major Farmer set out from New Orleans to take possession of the Illinois country from the French.

June 9, 1784—The Catholic church in the United States was declared by a decree from Rome to be a distinct body. This meant the transfer of Catholic parishes in Illinois from the jurisdiction of the archbishop of Quebec to that of the archbishop of Baltimore.

familiar to the people and in whom the people have confidence.

Women in the News.

Roslyn, L. I.—In an old rose garden that is over a century old, Mrs. Aaron Ward, wife of Rear Admiral Ward, a retired naval officer, is today giving a garden party for the benefit of the American Ambulance Hospital in Paris. The old estate is situated high on the cliffs above Hempstead harbor, overlooking Long Island sound. Mrs. Ward is hostess to many prominent New Yorkers, and her wonderful old garden, which came to her thru her ancestors, contains a happy throng.

Portland, Ore.—Portland society women are taking the leading part in the annual Rose Festival which began yesterday. Five hundred Portland women are named as a board of patronesses, with Mrs. Bay C. Talbot as general chairman.

Washington, D. C.—To provide a sylvan municipal theatre on the grounds of the Washington monument is the idea of Mrs. Christian D. Hennick, who is aided in pushing the plan by Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, known on the stage as Odette Tyler. The government officials have been urged to start the machinery that will permit the innovation, and Washington women say they will do the rest.

Paris.—With the death of Mme. Jane Dieulafoy, author, explorer, Chevalier of the Legion of Honor, and permitted by the French government to wear male apparel, which occurred week before last, there passed one of the most remarkable women in all Europe. She was educated in a convent and married a brilliant young engineer. When the Franco-Prussian war broke out, she secured permission to wear a soldier's uniform and accompany him to the front. She fought with distinction thru the entire war. Then she travelled with her husband, exploring Persia and other countries in the East. Their greatest finds were the ruins of the palaces of Darius and Artaxerxes. She was permitted to continue to wear men's apparel. She has written many books of a scientific character, and not a few romances.

Philadelphia.—The Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania has established a fellowship to be awarded annually to any medical woman of special ability who, following the undergraduate course, has completed one year of hospital service. This is said to be the first fellowship in obstetrics offered by any medical school. The holder of the scholarship must plan to continue the practice of obstetrics.

Chicago.—Aside from the flood of suffragists there is a goodly representation of prominent American women at the party convulsions. Washington society has pulled itself up by the roots and come on for a big doings. There is much entertaining, and the quiet little dinners that the ladies give are eagerly attended by delegates who are worn with strife or talked to death by the spellbinders.

MRS. DYCHE IS HAPPY RECIPIENT OF $200 IN CONSCIENCE MONEY

Sum Taken Twenty Years Ago From Her Father, Marcus Hobeck, Returned Thru Announcement of Chicago Priest in Journal.

A story of a crime committed twenty years ago and the reparation made by the conscience stricken culprit was brought to a happy ending Thursday afternoon, when a check for $200 was turned over to Mrs. Mary E. Dyche of this city, in restitution for a like sum taken from her father, Marcus Hobeck. Mrs. Dyche was located thru the efforts of Rev. Father John M. Cunningham, pastor of Sacred Heart church, Chicago. He learned of the theft thru confession and was requested to find the owner of a stolen purse or locate his heirs. Thru an article published in the Journal two weeks ago Mrs. Dyche learned of the request. She wrote to the priest and when the latter was satisfied that Mrs. Dyche's claim to be the only living heir of Marcus Hobeck was a true one, forwarded a check thru W. L. Fay of the Journal company. The correspondence between Mrs. Dyche and Rev. Father Cunningham was enclosed, and upon their examination of the evidence the money lost so long ago was turned over to the fortunate recipient.

As was mentioned in a previous issue, Mr. Hobeck was born in Germany in 1815 and came to Jacksonville in 1857, where he resided until 1893. During the Chicago World's Fair Mr. Hobeck removed to Chicago, and it was on a return journey to this city for the purpose of paying off a mortgage that Mr. Hobeck was robbed. The letter from Rev. Father Cunningham follows: The Jacksonville Journal Co., Jacksonville, Ill.

Gentlemen: Your generous efforts in trying to find the rightful owner of a sum of money, supposedly one Marcus Hobeck, prompts me to ask you to volunteer giving the enclosed check to Mrs. Mary E. Dyche of 721 E. Henry St., Jacksonville, Ill., providing you see fair probability that she is the rightful heir. I enclose for your perusal her letter to me. These letters and the account as told me by the one who found the money, justifies me in handing over the money to Mrs. Dyche, unless you see a payable law in her plea. My side of the story is as follows:

Some time ago I was conducting a mission revival in a church in one of our large cities. One of my audience came to me with qualms of conscience and stated that about twenty years ago, he noticed an old gentleman drop a pocket-book in a Chicago R. R. depot. At once he picked up the article and found that it contained $200. The only means of identification was the name of Marcus Hobeck, Jacksonville, Ill. "Find the owner, if possible," was his pleading. I replied that I would make every effort to do so. The money was thrust into my hands and I was unable to secure from the penitent his name or address. I felt that to find the owner after the lapse of twenty years was like finding "a needle in a haystack," until the newspaper men of the Journal came to the rescue—another proof that the newspaper besides its other advantages is a vehicle for justice and charity likewise.

I wish to thank you most cordially for your courtesy and interest and the splendid ability evidenced in this case.

Gratefully and sincerely with best wishes for continued success,
Rev. John M. Cunningham, S. J.

Pleasant Reflections

It's a big load off one's mind to know that his storage battery is working right. Our expert service is an assurance of good starting and lighting.

Use Care in Starting

Free inspection of any battery at any time

Most all of us have gone along the street at some time or other, and heard a motor churn and churn under the power of an electric starter without any apparent results. This is one of the most frequent causes of storage battery trouble according to a service representative of the Willard Storage Battery Co. He explained that very few motorists seemed to realize the immense amount of electrical power which is required to turn a motor, and what a considerable amount of driving at charging speed is necessary to restore same amount of current to the battery.

A little care in operating the self-starter will obviate this trouble. The driver should always make sure that the starting switch is thrown before attempting to operate the self-starter. Sometimes the gasoline tank is empty and under such conditions no amount of cranking would start the motor. The ignition button should always be pressed in firmly and all wire connections should be tight. Occasionally the gasoline mixture is too weak and on most cars this can be adjusted from the dash. The coil and distributor should be kept perfectly dry in order for the current to reach the spark plugs.

nizes the right of each state to settle this question for itself."

Laugh at Qualifying Phrase.—There were roars of laughter at this qualifying phrase to what the suffragists had celebrated as a clear cut victory and the convention hall rang with the demonstration of those who approved the qualification.

The temper of the convention managers to hear the minorities might well be illustrated by their conduct toward Edwin J. Gross, of Milwaukee, who, as a member of the resolution committee, presented his own minority report containing practically all the much discussed proposals characterized as ultra radical ranging from governmental manufacture of munitions to the initiative, referendum and the recall.

Impatient delegates tried to hush him down, but he repeatedly was protected by Chairman Harding who insisted that he should be heard. A chorus of "noes" disposed of his report.

With them the convention referred contests in the national committee to the national committee itself, ratified the uncontested nomination and adjourned until tomorrow.

Chairman Harding of the Republican convention said tonight that unless he is overruled he will ask the convention to go straight thru with nominating speeches as soon as the convention convenes tomorrow morning and that all seconding speeches be made after the nominating addresses have been concluded and then only by arrangement with the chair. About the only thing that can interfere with this program, he added would be a report from the peace conference committee. According to present plans there will be no time limit placed on nominating speeches. Seconding speeches will be limited to five minutes each.

President Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell University who hitherto has favored the candidacy of Elihu Root tonight issued a statement declaring that while Justice Hughes had authorized no one whomsoever to speak for him, from a personal acquaintance with the justice, he was assured that Mr. Hughes was in the fullest accord with the issue of Americanism and always has been in sympathy with what is now the attitude and sentiment of the Republican and Progressive parties.

Progressive Hold Two Sessions.—Auditorium, Chicago, June 8.—The Progressive National convention met in two tumultuous sessions today and adjourned tonight until 10 a. m., tomorrow.

The principal business of the day was the approval of the plan to confer on peace plans with the Republican convention.

Thruout the day the leaders kept control over the delegations more by persuasion and by constant reiteration by Chairman Robins' promise that the majority would decide any questions that arose than by any actual hold they had upon the delegations. The same determination to nominate Theodore Roosevelt was evident from the time the first delegation trooped in shortly after 1 o'clock until the last went out shortly before 9 o'clock tonight. Leaders made no effort to conceal their belief that a failure of the conference committee to agree or to find some possible basis for an agreement could result in but one thing—the immediate nomination of Colonel Roosevelt. In the words of Chairman Robins, "tomorrow probably will be a big day in the convention."

Only by many promises to place no obstacle in the way of the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt were the delegates content to adjourn and await results from the conferees.

Make Platform Unfinished Business.—The convention spent about four hours in session ending with a perfunctory night gathering which resulted mostly in singing and cheering. During the day the temporary organization was made permanent and the platform of the resolution committee was received, read and made the unfinished business.

The rules which were adopted without objection, would limit presidential nominating speeches to twenty minutes, seconding speeches to five and all others to ten. They also prescribed nominations should follow consideration of platform and other routine business.

Dean William Draper Lewis of Pennsylvania, chairman of the resolutions committee, presented the platform completed by the committee. Before reading it he said, "the committee had tried to write a short document and one that would take no backward step."

Many Planks Are Applauded.—Many planks in the platform were generously applauded, especially those on Americanism and preparedness. The plan for universal military service was loudly endorsed and when the plank advocating woman suffrage was reached there was a pronounced demonstration, women delegates marching down the aisle and waving flags. Delegates insisted that the suffrage plank be read again and another vociferous demonstration occurred when the request was complied with. Still again—for the third time—the convention demanded the suffrage plank, some delegates complaining that the premature applause prevented their hearing its last few words.

Other planks loudly applauded were those reaffirming the 1912 platform and those against child labor, for re-establishing a merchant marine, for a tariff commission, and that demanding as president "a leader fit to meet the nation's needs." Dean Lewis then proposed to read the platform plank by plank so that each might be voted in order. Delegate Edward P. Costigan of Colorado, declared that the woman suffrage plank had been changed and that instead of its recommending suffrage by "either" federal or state action it was originally proposed to cover both.

Dean Lewis said he understood that the suffrage platform as read expressed the sentiment of the convention. Dean Lewis offered to make correction if he had erred.

Perkins Is Given an Ovation.—George W. Perkins stepped to the front of the stage and was given an ovation and three cheers as he started a statement regarding the convention's procedure.

"We came here to make an honest, genuine effort to come to some agreement with the Republicans in this time of stress to our country," he said. "You have seen fit to suggest to the Republicans that a conference take place. I take it the important things discussed in such a conference would be the platform and candidate."

Mr. Perkins suggested that the platform be laid aside without action until it was learned whether the Republicans would agree to the peace conference proposals, particularly, as he said, as Colonel Roosevelt would be nominated at the Republican convention. He strongly advised the convention that it postpone action both on the platform and nominations until after the results of both the overtures and balloting upon Colonel Roosevelt at the Coliseum were ascertained.

"We should proceed expeditiously," he said, "but an hour or two in this crisis is nothing to the service we can do our country."

The delegates gave Mr. Perkins generous applause.

Governor Johnson of California was given an ovation of unusual length and enthusiasm when he rose. He moved to adjourn to 8 p. m.

Several members angrily demanded that the plan to authorize appointment of the peace committee be first voted upon. The motion passed just as word came from the Republicans that the peace proposal was brought up for consideration there. John McGrath, Colonel Roosevelt's secretary, Chairman Robins and other leaders rushed to the front of the stage and urged the delegates who were pushing out of exits to remain.

Reconsider Adjournment.—Governor Johnson then announced that Senator Smoot had moved adoption of a resolution to have the Republican convention appoint a peace committee. The convention then reconsidered its adjournment.

Chairman Robins then announced reported adoption of the Smoot resolution by the Republican convention. He suggested that, in courtesy the Progressive convention should reconvene officially. A motion to that effect was hastily passed with but one opposing vote.

Frank A. Funk of Illinois offered a motion to authorize Chairman Robins to appoint the Progressive peace conference committee of equal size of that of the Republicans. The motion was agreed to unanimously by viva voce vote.

Chairman Robins explained that the committee would have no authority except to confer with the Republican committee and then report to the convention.

Gofford Pinchot said he favored adjourning only until 8 p. m., and was supported by Chairman Robins. A motion to adjourn to 8 o'clock then was rushed thru at 5:45 without a dissenting vote.

WILL NOT FILE PETITIONS.

St. Louis, June 8.—Announcement was made at woman's headquarters today that petitions for placing a suffrage amendment on the Missouri ballot next fall would not be filed. This decision was reached as a result of defeat of suffrage in Iowa. It had been planned to file the petitions after the suffrage demonstration here during the Democratic national convention but the coming election now is considered inopportune. A woman suffrage amendment was defeated at the election of 1914.

TWELVE SURVIVORS WASHED ASHORE ON RAFT

RUSSIANS PRESSING AUSTRIANS WESTWARD

RECAPTURE LUTSK, ONE OF TRIANGLE OF RUSS FORTS IN VOLHYNIA

French Barrier Fire Holds German Back East and West of Thaumont Farm—Italians Continue to Hold Austrians South and Southeast of Trent.

Having recaptured Lutsk, one of the triangle of Russian forts in Volhynia from the Austro-Hungarians, the Russians are pressing their adversaries westward. In numerous places not only have the Russians gained the banks of the Ikwa and Sty rivers but have crossed the streams and continued their offensive against their foes.

In the region of Kovel, midway between Lutsk and Brest-Litovsk, and in the vicinity of Rovno, southeast of the fortress, the Russians have begun actions against the Austro-Hungarians.

Likewise in Galicia there has been no let up in the Russian attacks against the soldiers of the dual monarchy, from whom they have captured along the lower reaches of the Strip river heavily fortified positions. In the fighting the Russians have materially added to their prisoners and their stores of captured guns, machine guns and war materials.

Considerable activity has been shown by the Germans against the Russians on the northwest sections of the Russian front, where the German guns have heavily bombarded the line along the Dvina to the lake region south of Dvinsk and thrown infantry attacks against the Russian positions south of Smorgon.

In this later region, the Germans report the capture of the village of Kunava, but Petrograd asserts that all their attacks were repulsed.

With the capture of Fort Vaux, northeast of Verdun, the Germans have attempted to advance their line against the French east and west of the Thaumont farm, south of Douaumont. The French barrier fire, however, held them back. Northwest of Verdun, around Hill 304, and in the region of Chattancourt the artillery are still intense.

Intermittent duels have given way to vicious infantry attacks and counter-attacks by the Germans and British around Hooze. Sapping operations between the Vimy ridge and LaBasse canal and near the Hohen-zollern redoubt were to the advantage of the British, according to London.

The Italians to the south and southeast of Trent continue to keep the Austrians from further advances. South and southwest of Asiago attacks by the Austrians against the Italian positions were entirely repulsed, according to Rome, while along the Legarina valley concentrations of Austrians were dispersed by the Italian batteries.

Northwest of Trent, in the Ortler region, the Italians have attacked and captured several points of vantage from the Austrians, further south in the Chiese valley, have repulsed Austrian offensives.

Altho it had been believed that the entire ships company of the cruiser Hampshire was lost when that vessel sank while carrying Earl Kitchener to Russia, twelve men have drifted ashore on a raft. All exports of coal to Greece have been prohibited. This probably is in line with announcements that the entente allies were considering restrictive measures against Greek commerce, to prevent supplies from reaching the enemy.

PROGRESSIVE PLATFORM IS MADE UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Document is Received With Enthusiasm That Presages Its Adoption With Little if Any Change.

Chicago, June 6.—The Progressive platform with its principal planks devoted to an exposition of Americanism, preparedness, protection and woman suffrage, was laid before the Progressive convention today. It was received with enthusiasm that presaged its adoption with but little if any change and was made the unfinished business when the convention recessed tonight to allow its conferees to discuss peace plans with the Republicans. Few changes were made today in the platform as drafted by the resolutions committee and submitted last night.

A portion of the chapter on Americanism, however, was changed to read as follows:

"We earnestly desire to keep the peace but there are higher things which we must keep if we would keep the faith as Washington and Lincoln kept it. Peace at the price of submission and cowardice is not desirable, nor is it the peace of justice which alone would make it permanent. Supine submission to the invasion of our rights or indifference to the wrongs of weaker nations will not long maintain peace, nor will mere threat of action enforce our rights under international law. There must be an unaltering determination and a personal ability to defend our rights and to fulfill our international obligation. In such a readiness lies the sure safeguard of both national honor and continued peace. Failure to deal firmly and promptly with the menace of Mexican disorders has brought conditions worse than warfare and has weakened our national self-respect. Every resource of government should forthwith be used to end those conditions and protect from outrage the lives, honor and property of American men and women in Mexico."

PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS GET NEW APPARATUS

Park Board Has Been Busy Recently in Interest of Children of the City.

The park board has devoted considerable time and money to the two playgrounds in its charge, the one at Nichols park and the other in the first ward on Independence avenue and East street.

The one at Nichols park has recently been refitted at a considerable expense which would have been well high double had the apparatus been bought ready to put up but thru the capable efforts of Messrs. Anderson and Gomes of the board the material only was bought and is all iron and durable. The work was done at home and these two gentlemen gave largely of their time and experience and the children and the city will get the benefit.

Swings will be put up near the distributing reservoir and in Duncan park. The work done on the playground in the first ward was of a rather better character than that done in Nichols park and has lasted longer but eventually it must be replaced with metal apparatus.

People of influence today are more concerned about the welfare of the child than at any other time in history, because they are the men and women of destiny. In their hands in a short time will be all the interest of life and those that concern eternity.

Plenty of room for dives and dens (glitter and glare of sin).

Plenty of room for prison pens (gather the criminal in);

Plenty of room for jails and courts (willing enough to pay);

But never a place for the lads to race—no, never a place to play.

Plenty of room for shops and stores (Mammon must have the best);

Plenty of room for the running sores that rot in the city's breast.

Plenty of room for the lures that lead the heart of our youths astray,

But never a cent on playgrounds spent, no, never a place to play.

Plenty of room for the schools and halls, plenty of room for art;

Plenty of room for teas and balls, platform, stage and mart.

Proud is the city—she finds a place for many a fad today;

But she's more than blind if she fails to find a place for the boys to play.

Give them a chance for innocent sport, give them a chance for fun—

Better a playground than a court and a jail after the harm is done.

Give them a chance—if you stint them now, tomorrow you'll have to pay

A larger bill for a darker ill—so give them a chance to play.

GAS AND ELECTRIC RATES LOWERED IN MINNEAPOLIS

Compromise Agreement Between Utilities Company and City Brought End to Litigation.

The Utility Magazine, in the May issue, has an interesting article on "Lower Gas and Electric Rates in Minneapolis". The writer is Stiles P. Jones, secretary of the Public Franchise League of Minneapolis. The price changes made are not radical but indicate the general trend of utility matters.

Consumers of gas and electricity in Minneapolis received a welcome Christmas present in the form of simultaneous announcements from the gas and electric utilities of reductions in rates.

The new gas rate is 77 cents per thousand feet, to continue in effect from January 1, 1916, to April 1, 1918. This is a reduction of eight cents from the price during the first three-year period of the new contract, made in 1910.

It is estimated that the new rate will save consumers of gas about $70,000 a year. This is the second lowest rate for gas in any Minnesota city, Duluth, under municipal ownership, representing the low point, 75 cents. The St. Paul rate by a recent settlement is 83 cents.

The new rate in Minneapolis is in accordance with the stipulation between the city and the company, made in 1913, dismissing the court action brought by the company to have declared confiscatory the rate of 70 cents during the five-year period from 1913, established by council ordinance in that year. The 79-cent rate was in effect from November, 1913, to April of the next year. Under the terms of the stipulation, the price was advanced to 80 cents for the period to January 1, 1916, with a reduction to 77 cents for the rest of the five-year period. The average rate for the five years is 77 1-2 cents. The requirements as to candle power and heating efficiency remain unchanged—15 candle power and 600 B. T. U., respectively.

The new electric rates cover the domestic and commercial lighting fields only. They go into effect March 1st. The reduction is voluntary and is in accordance with the settled policy of the General Electric company to make periodical conservative reductions in the cost of electric service to conform to the growth of business and the resulting economies in production and distribution. The previous reduction was made three years ago. During those three years the customers in all classes increased 90 per cent, which is ample evidence to the company of the soundness of its policy. The General Electric company is operating without a franchise. The city exercises the usual police power over conditions of service but has not jurisdiction over rates. A legislative act in 1913 giving rate making powers to the city council was vetoed by the governor.

The new residential rates are as follows:

Eight and one-half cents per kilowatt hour for the first three kilowatt hours per month.

Six cents per kilowatt hour for the next three kilowatt hours per month.

Two and one-half cents for all additional current.

The monthly minimum bill of $1 and the cash discount of 5 per cent for prompt payment will remain as at present.

The present residential rates are:

Nine cents per kilowatt hour for the first three kilowatt hours per month and six cents per kilowatt hour for all current in excess of this amount, with a discount of 5 per cent for prompt payment.

The effect of the new rates will be a uniform and horizontal reduction of one-half percent per kilowatt hour in the primary lighting rate, which affects all customers paying more than the minimum bill, and the addition of a very low rate applying mostly to electric cooking, heating and domestic power.

It is estimated that during the months of heaviest lighting demand about 27 per cent of the residence customers, under their present requirements, will participate in the 2-cent rate. Application of the new schedule to a six-room house using 50 kilowatt hours in a month gives an average net rate of 5.6 cents per kilowatt hour. The company estimates that about 95 per cent of its customers in the first step will be favorably affected by the reduction.

The new commercial rate, it is estimated, will reduce the cost of service to more than 4,700 business customers. The revised schedule is as follows:

Seven and one-half cents per kilowatt hour for the first 200 kilowatt hours (or fraction) per month.

Four cents per kilowatt hour for all additional current.

Prompt payment discount 5 per cent; monthly minimum bill $1.

The present general or commercial lighting rates are as follows:

Eight cents per kilowatt hour for the first 100 kilowatt hours per month.

Seven and one-half cents per kilowatt hour for the next 100 kilowatt hours per month.

Six and one-half cents per kilowatt hour for the next 100 kilowatt hours per month.

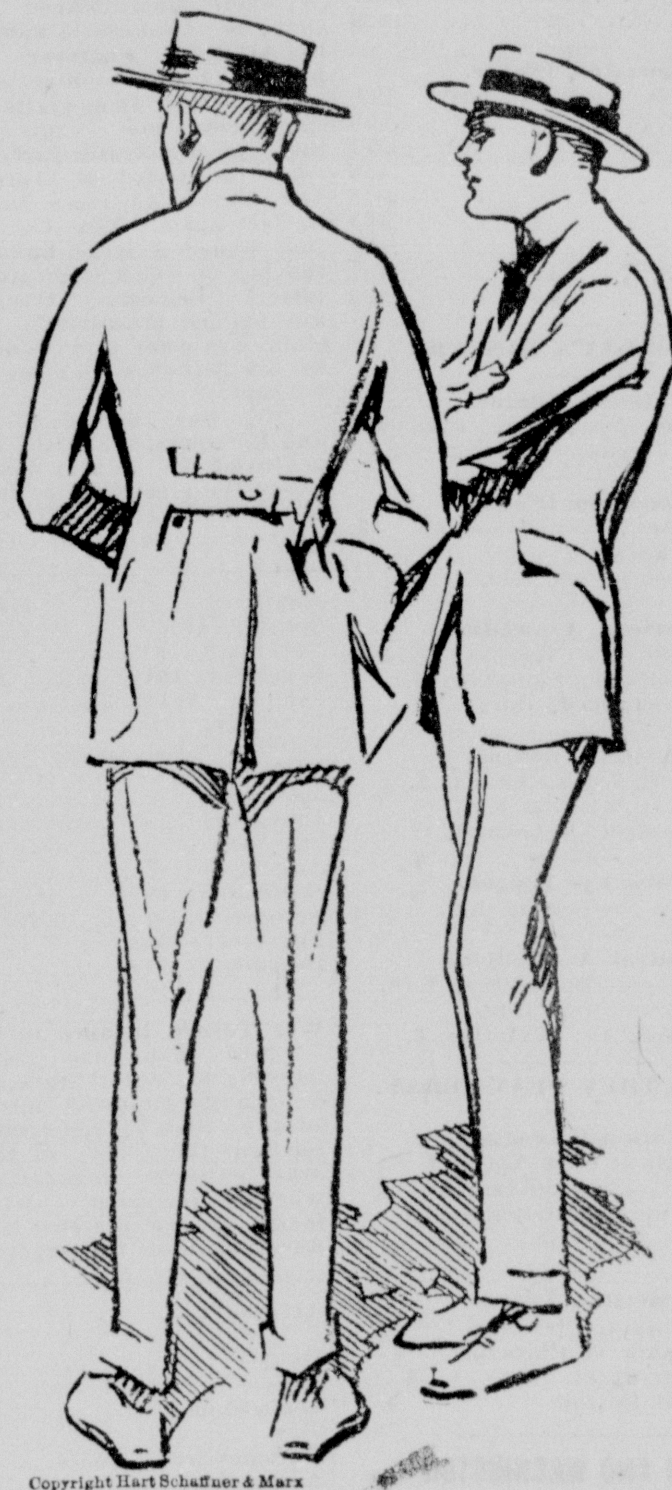

Five cents per kilowatt hour for the next 300 kilowatt hours per month.

Four and one-half cents per kilowatt hour for all over 600 kilowatt hours per month.

Prompt payment discount 5 per cent; monthly minimum bill $1.

In effect, the new rates will cause a reduction of one-half cent per kilowatt hour on the first step and one-half cent on the last step, and, thru the elimination of all intermediate steps, a customer will obtain the lowest rate after the consumption of 300 kilowatt hours, instead of after 600 kilowatt hours, as at present.

10. Verse 6. Can a man live careless of the needs of others, and be a child of God? Why?

11. Why is it that all true Christians are eager to impart to others their knowledge of salvation?

12. If a person is not anxious to talk to others about the wonderful salvation revealed in the Bible, is that or not, and why a sign that he does not himself enjoy salvation?

13. Verses 7-8. What sort of a crop will that church member reap, who seldom speaks of spiritual things, but talks quite freely on politics, business and sports? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

TEMPORARY PROSPERITY IS DUE TO WAR CONDITIONS

Figures on Exports and Imports Present Interesting Study—Endorsement Is Conclusive.

Washington, June 7.—Emboldened by their unchallenged assumption that the Democratic administration has brought whatever degree of prosperity this country is now enjoying, the Democratic National Committee now expressly asserts that the Democratic party has overcome the period of depression and has placed American industry on its feet again. That Committee has just issued a large bulletin across the top of which is printed in large letters "Democracy brings era of unexampled prosperity." A similar claim was made by President Wilson in his Jefferson Day speech, when he said:

"We have turned the thoughts and the energies and the conquering genius of the business men of America to the great field of the business of the world at large."

These two assertions raise an issue of fact—an issue which can be determined by an almost conclusive mathematical demonstration. Was it the Democratic party that brought a temporary return of prosperity? Was it the Democratic party that turned the conquering genius of the business men of America to the great field of the world at large? Let us see.

Democrats Swing Balance Against Us

The chief factor in determining industrial conditions is the balance of trade. While there are other factors that very materially affect financial conditions, the balance of trade most nearly reflects the conditions of productive enterprise. We present herewith a brief table showing the monthly balances of trade of the United States beginning with October, 1913, when the Underwood Tariff law was enacted, and covering a period of 14 months, from which it will be seen that at the time the Underwood law was enacted the monthly balance of trade was largely in favor of the United States, but it steadily diminished until in April, 1914, the balance of trade was against us and continued against us until September, one month after the outbreak of the European war:

War Turned Balance in Our Favor

From that time forward the monthly balance of trade in our favor steadily increased until it reached more than $200,000,000 unpaired in the history of this or any other country. In order to show of what our increased export trade was made up, we present herewith figures showing the exports of commodities used in war for the first twelve months after war orders began to come in, compared with a corresponding period before any war orders were filled, from which it will be seen that the large increases in our exports are in those commodities which are absolutely essential for the maintenance of an army in the field:

Increased Exports to War Zone

It having thus been demonstrated that our increases in exports were in those commodities which are essential to the maintenance of armies, we present below a table showing the countries to which our exports increased, from which table it will be seen that the increases are practically all to the nations at war, or to adjacent countries which are merely acting as intermediaries in transferring our goods to the warring nations:

Exports from the United States Twelve months ended September

The statistics for the last year under the Republican tariff law are given above in order to show that exports to Europe were decreasing before the war began.

War Not Democracy Brought Trade.

The three tables presented above demonstrate two things: First, that as a result of Democratic tariff legislation, a balance of trade that was in our favor was changed to a balance of trade against us, thus showing that instead of other nations sending their money here to buy the products of foreign labor, discouraging our own industries and building up the industries of foreign lands; and, second, that the outbreak of the European war created an enormous demand for our products—a demand coming from the nations at war and chiefly for products essential to the maintenance of armies. The Democratic party had absolutely nothing to do with the creation of this abnormal market.

Other Factors.

The figures presented above apply only to foreign trade conditions. There are other and perhaps no less important factors which have been very materially influenced by the outbreak of the war and not in any sense influenced by Democratic administration. For instance, prior to the outbreak of the war, American tourists were spending in Europe sums estimated at from $300,000,000 to $500,000,000 annually, this constituting a net outgo for which had practically no corresponding income. The outbreak of the war not only shut off this expenditure, but induced American citizens to spend a corresponding sum at home, thus helping to revive American industry and give employment to American labor.

Again, prior to the outbreak of the European war, as everybody knows, large amounts of American stocks and bonds were held by foreign investors to whom we paid interest and dividends amounting annually to many millions of dollars. So great was the amount of these securities held abroad that when the war broke out there was fear of the dumping of these securities upon the American market and our stock exchanges were closed. Upon the reopening of the stock exchanges more than a billion dollars worth of these securities were returned to us and bought by American investors, and who now collect the interest and dividends and spend the proceeds at home for the development of American industry and the employment of American labor.

Furthermore, prior to the outbreak of the war, ocean transportation under the American flag was at a minimum, but since that time, because of the protection they would receive, many ships have been placed under the American flag and have purchased their supplies in America and had their repairs and improvements made in American ship-yards.

Decreased Immigration.

Not only have these factors contributed in an enormous measure to the revival of American industry as a direct result of the outbreak and continuance of the war in Europe, but the labor situation has been very radically affected to the advantage of American workmen. During the two fiscal years preceding the outbreak of the war, the net increase in our population by reason of the inflow and outflow of aliens was 1,500,000. In the 19 months since the outbreak of the war, the net increase in our population by reason of the movement of aliens has been 100,000. It is apparent, therefore, that as one result of the war, we have already experienced, relatively speaking, a cutting off of over a million and a quarter of increase in population almost entirely of the laboring class. The war not only called to Europe large numbers of persons who went to participate in the conflict in behalf of their native countries, but also prevented the immigration of large numbers of persons who would otherwise have come to this country to engage in industry and compete with American labor. The high wages that are today being paid in almost all lines of industry are due first to the abnormal demand for our products, and, second, to the abnormal scarcity of labor.

Industrial Depression Preceding War

In addition to these indisputable evidences that it was the war that produced whatever degree of prosperity we are now enjoying, let it be remembered that prior to the outbreak of the war our bank clearings at 9 o'clock, the surplus of idle freight cars had reached an appalling figure; more miles of railroads were in the hands of receivers than ever before in our history, and commercial failures had also reached a record-breaking maximum. From every viewpoint the evidence shows a growing industrial depression up to the time the European war began to exert a beneficial influence upon our business, and from that day a steadily rising industrial improvement along lines which clearly indicate to the unprejudiced mind the results of war orders.

Let it be clearly understood that we do not assert that all the business this country is doing today is war business. Naturally and inevitably, the change in our trade balance, the cutting off of tourist expenditures abroad, and the saving to our people of the payment of interest and dividends throws into the channels of domestic trade enormous sums of money which are expended for development of home industry. But while this is true, it does not change the fact, which the American people should not for one moment lose sight of, that the revival of business activity dated from the outbreak of the European war, prior to which time conditions were growing steadily worse.

The Evidence Is Conclusive

The evidence submitted above is not purely circumstantial. It is not left to the voter to reach an inference from very remote and disconnected bits of evidence. The industrial and financial facts stated herein are so closely and convincingly connected with the European war as to leave no possible doubt in the mind of any unbiased searcher for truth that whatever prosperity we are now enjoying, must be attributed primarily to the war in Europe.

No American Jury Weighing Evidence

Under the instructions from a judge, would reject evidence as conclusive as this. Neither will such evidence be rejected by the vast jury of the American voters, notwithstanding the unsupported assertion of the President of the United States and the Democratic National Committee.

CAPTAIN SMITH INJURED.

Yesterday afternoon as Capt. Alexander Smith was crossing the street on the northeast corner of the square a gust of wind carried away his hat. As he attempted to recover it he slipped and fell upon the pavement, bruising his hip. Capt. Smith was immediately taken to Phelps & Osborne's store, and Dr. H. C. Woltman and a carriage from Cherry's was summoned. He was removed to his home on West State street, and an examination proved that a painful bruise was the result of the fall. His condition was not serious.

MRS. MURPHY'S NEPHEW GRADUATES

Mrs. Nelson McMurphy received an invitation yesterday to the graduation exercises of her nephew, F. T. McCurley, at Purdue University. Mr. McCurley has completed a course in chemical engineering.

PREDICTIONS OF BULLISH CROP REPORT LIFTS WHEAT

Market Closes Firm at 4 60 3/4 of a Cent Net Advance—Corn Market Is on Upgrade.

Chicago, June 8.—Well founded predictions that the government crop report would be of a bullish character had much to do today with a rise which took place in the value of wheat. The market closed firm at 4 60 3/4 net advance with July, $1.05 1/2 @ 1/2 and Sept., $1.06 1/2 @ 1/2. Corn gained 3/4 to 1 1/2c; oats finished unchanged to 3/4c higher and provisions up 10 to 45c.

Altho the government estimate of the spring crop yield of wheat was 67,000,000 bushels larger than private experts had supposed, the official figures on the winter crop were at least 25,000,000 bushels under what was expected by a majority of traders. On the whole, therefore, the Washington report turned out to be decidedly more in favor of the bulls than they had anticipated. The actual totals however were not known until after the close of business. Meanwhile, sentiment against the bears appeared to be due in some degree to signs of improved demand at Liverpool and to announcement of the capture of Fort Vaux by the Germans attacking Verdun. Bearish crop advices from the southwest led at one time to a setback in wheat prices but later were largely offset by adverse field reports from the Northwest. According to one authority the Hessian fly scare in Kansas was over and the damage had turned out to be not so serious as had been generally believed would be the case.

Unfavorable weather, enlarged cash demand and the smallness of receipts put the corn market on the upgrade. Oats prices on the contrary, were held down by opinions that the general rains would be a material benefit to the oats crop. Higher prices on hogs lifted provisions. It was said there was active buying of lard for Europe.

J. ALEX CAMPBELL DIES AFTER PROLONGED ILLNESS

Well Known Resident of City Passes Away Wednesday Evening in Canon City, Colo.—Burial Will Be Made Here.

Joseph Alexander Campbell died at Canon City, Colo., Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock after an illness of several months, according to word received by relatives here Thursday morning. The remains accompanied by his wife and daughter will arrive in Jacksonville Saturday at noon for interment.

"Alex" Campbell as he was best known to his many friends was born near Waverly Dec. 31, 1872. The family removed to Jacksonville when he was a boy and this city has since been his home. He was educated in the public schools of the city and later attended Brown's Business College and Illinois college. Mr. Campbell was at one time in the employ of one of the Express companies of the city. During the second term of L. W. Chambers, 1892-1897 he entered the mail service as carrier and for more than twenty years was employed at the local postoffice.

About two years ago Mr. Campbell had a long spell of illness and was compelled to go to Colorado for his health. He was much benefitted and returned and again took up his work. His health again failed and about a year ago he resigned from the service and prepared to return to Colorado. He left here with his wife and daughter last spring but evidently he had waited too long for the change was of little benefit.

October 7, 1897 Mr. Campbell was united in marriage to Miss Anna Baldwin of this city. They united with Central Christian church and for many years he was one of the most prominent workers. He was possessed of a splendid voice and was a member of the choir of the church and gave his services unselfishly when called upon to sing at funerals. Mr. Campbell was a man who made many friends and his life was such that he was highly regarded in this community where he lived for so many years. Mr. Campbell was a member of Urn Lodge No. 243 I. O. O. F. and of Caritas Lodge No. 625 Rebekahs.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Grace Leah Campbell, his mother Mrs. Mahala Campbell and the following brothers, W. H. Campbell of Republican City, Neb., C. E. Campbell and J. H. Campbell of this city, A. L. Campbell of Waverly and S. P. Campbell of Modesto.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

TO OIL FRANKLIN STREETS.

At a meeting of interested citizens held Monday night a permanent oil committee consisting of Geo. Schaaf, Dr. F. H. Metcalf and Lewis Roberts was appointed to order a car of oil for the village streets at an early date. The Better Way and a part of Main street is going to be oiled and others who want oil can get it by applying to the committee by Monday, June 19th, when the car will be ordered.

The balance left from last year's oiling will be applied on old work gone over this year, making the cost a trifle less than where new oiling is done. For old work the cost this year will be 3c a square yard and for new work 4c a square yard, put on. The village will pay for oiling street and alley intersections as heretofore.—Franklin Times

ABOUT A MOSQUITO.

A Jacksonville man Thursday reported a spirited argument regarding the various kinds of mosquitoes and one of the parties insisted that "if a mosquito's tail turned up it was a breeder or conveyor of malaria while the other disputed it."

Experts say that the harmless kind have fore and hind legs of equal length and their bodies are parallel with a plane surface on which they are resting while the malarial species have rear legs much longer than the others and when they are at rest their bodies incline upward at quite an angle.

SUCCESSFUL CITIZEN GIVES BUY-AT-HOME ADVICE

"Trade at Home and Make Friends," is Injunction of Well-to-Do Resident.

A well-to-do resident of Jacksonville who asks that his name be withheld, said Thursday that when he landed in Jacksonville many years ago a well high penniless young man, he was fortunate in getting a reasonable position which paid him moderately well. He was a stranger in a strange land and sensibly sought at once to make as many friends as possible in an honorable manner.

He discovered that his predecessor in the position he occupied had some buying to do for his employer or at least had the power to say where a good many articles should be bought and to be smart he sent away for almost everything but the successor said to himself that wasn't what was right and proceeded to change the program and buy at home and really getting better value for his money and at the same time careful to be square in all his dealings and to show that he meant to do the fair thing and the result was he made a good many friends.

After a while he decided he had worked for other people long enough as his pay was not large and he had been unable to lay up much. He decided however to go into business for himself and a prominent citizen of the city hearing of it asked the young man if a little ready money would be acceptable. He said it most certainly would and the man said he would let him have five hundred dollars whenever he was ready to buy his stock.

He was overjoyed and made his plans accordingly but when he went to get the money his kind friend laid down a thousand remarking he could spare it all right. That was his cash capital and with it he bought a modest stock of goods and began business.

It isn't necessary to follow his long career but he has always believed in making friends in an honorable manner and in buying at home and today he is not obliged to work if he doesn't feel like it and has much good advice to give young men.

FORMER PIKE COUNTY YOUNG MEN MURDERED

Woodfolk Brothers Slain in Texas, Where They Were Homesteading Government Land.

A message was received by relatives in Pittsfield informing them that Fred and Paul Woodfolk, who moved with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Woodfolk, to Lockney, Texas, several years ago, had been shot and killed. But few particulars of the affair have been received. It seems that the two young men were homesteading some government land in New Mexico, about 200 miles from Lockney, on which they had resided about six months. A doctor resided on an adjoining tract and it was at his home where the shooting took place and where the bodies were found, the doctor was later placed under arrest and taken to jail and it is supposed that this doctor and the young men had gotten into some altercation over matters pertaining to the land and that the doctor had killed them. No further particulars of the killing, which took place May 24, have been received. The bodies of the young men were brought back to Lockney, Texas, by the father, where the funeral services and burial took place a few days later.

INDICATIONS POINT TO WHEAT CROP OF 300,000,000 BU. SHORT

Department of Agriculture Forecasts Indicate Winter Wheat Crop of 469,000,000 Bushels and a Spring Wheat Crop of 246,000,000 Bushels.

Washington, June 8.—Present indications point to a wheat crop of 300,000,000 bushels smaller this year than that of last year. Department of agriculture forecasts today indicated a winter wheat crop of 469,000,000 bushels, thirty million bushels less than forecast from May 1st, conditions, due largely to insects in Kansas and Oklahoma and a spring wheat crop of 246,000,000 bushels due to a decrease in the acreage from last year and to the late wet spring.

Crop conditions on June 1st, indicated less production than last year of small grain crops, but they promise to be about the same as the average production for the last five years. Fruit crops as a whole are good; the apple crop prospect is good, especially in the eastern states but the peach crop promise is rather poor.

Indications are that the oat crop will be about 300,000,000 bushels smaller than last year being particularly poor in most southern states and Oklahoma and Central Kansas, where greenbug has injured it.

The estimated total production of the various crops, based on their June 1 condition, with last year's production and the average for the five years, 1910-1914, for comparison, follow: (Figures in millions of bushels, i. e., 000,000's omitted):

Crop	1916	1915	avg.
Winter wheat	469	655	495
Spring wheat	246	257	252
All wheat	715	912	728
Oats	1,255	1,540	1,158
Barley	189	237	186

strict regulation of the transportation and great corporations of the country. It has put its creed into its deeds and all really effective laws regulating the railroads and the great industrial corporations are the work of Republican congresses and presidents. For this policy of regulation and supervision the Democrats in a stumbling and piecemeal way are undertaking to involve the government in business which should be left within the sphere of private enterprise and in direct competition with its own citizens, a policy which is sure to result in waste, great expense to the taxpayer and in an inferior product.

"The Republican party firmly believes that all who violate the laws in regulation of business should be individually punished. But prosecution is very different from persecution, and business success, no matter how honestly attained, is apparently regarded by the Democratic party as in itself a crime. Such doctrines and beliefs choke enterprise and stifle prosperity. The Republican party believes in encouraging American business as it believes in and will seek to advance all American interests."

Rural Credits.

"We favor an effective system of rural credits as opposed to the ineffective law proposed by the present Democratic administration."

Rural Free Delivery.

"We favor the extension of the rural free delivery system and condemn the Democratic administration for curtailing and crippling it."

Merchant Marine.

"In view of the policies adopted by all the maritime nations to encourage their shipping interests and in order to enable us to compete with them for the ocean carrying trade we favor the payment of ships engaged in the foreign trade of liberal compensation for services actually rendered in carrying the mails and such further legislation as will build up an adequate American merchant marine and give us ships which may be requisitioned by the government in time of national emergency."

"We are utterly opposed to the government ownership of vessels as proposed by the Democratic party because government ownership will effectively prevent the development of the American merchant marine by private capital will be entirely unable to provide for the vast volume of American freights and will leave us more helpless than ever in the hard grip of foreign syndicates."

Transportation

"Interstate and intrastate transportation have become so interwoven that the attempt to apply two and often several sets of laws to its regulation has produced conflicts of authority, embarrassment in operation and inconvenience and expense to the public. The entire transportation system of the country has become essentially national. We therefore, favor such action by legislation, or if necessary, thru an amendment to the constitution of the United States as will result in placing it under exclusive federal control."

Economy and a National Budget.
"Increasing cost of the national government and the need for the greatest economy of its resources in order to meet the growing demands of the people for government service call for the severest condemnation of the wasteful appropriation of its resources in the administration of its government. We therefore, favor the establishment of a national budget and the rejection of President Taft's oft repeated proposals and earnest efforts to secure economy and efficiency thru the establishment of a simply business like budget system to which we pledge our support and which we hold to be necessary to effect any real reform in the administration of national finances."

Conservation.
"We believe in a careful husbandry of all the natural resources of the nation, a husbandry which means development without waste; use without abuse."

Civil Service Reform.
"The civil service law has always been sustained by the Republican party and we renew our repeated declaration that it shall be thoroughly and honestly enforced and extended wherever practicable. The Democratic party has created since March 4, 1913, thirty thousand offices outside of the civil service law at an annual cost of forty-four million dollars to the taxpayers of the country."

"We condemn the gross abuse and the misuse of the law by the present Democratic administration and pledge ourselves to a re-organization of this service along lines of efficiency and economy."

Territorial Officials.
"Reaffirming the attitude long maintained by the Republican party we hold that officials appointed to administer the government of any territory should be bona fide residents of the territory in which their duties are to be performed."

Labor Laws.

"We pledge the Republican party to the faithful enforcement of all federal laws passed for the protection of labor. We favor vocational education; the enactment and rigid enforcement of a federal child labor law; the enactment of a generous and comprehensive workmen's compensation law, within the commerce power of congress and an accident compensation law covering all government employees. We favor the collection and collation under the direction of the department of labor of complete data relating to industrial hazards for the information of congress to the end that such legislation may be adopted as may be calculated to secure the safety, conservation and protection of labor from the dangers incident to industry and transportation."

Suffrage.

"The Republican party, reaffirming its faith in government of the people, by the people, for the people, as a measure of justice to one half the adult people of this country, favors the extension of the suffrage to women, but recognizes the right of each state to settle this question for itself."

"Such are our principles, such are our purposes and policies. We close as we began. The times are dangerous and the future is fraught with peril. The great issues of the day have been confused by words and phrases. The American spirit which made the country and saved the union has been forgotten by those charged with the responsibility of power. We appeal to all Americans whether naturalized or native born, to prove to the world that we are Americans in thought and in deed with one loyalty, one hope, one aspiration. We call on all Americans to be true to the spirit of America, to the great traditions of their common country and above all things, to keep the faith."

INSTITUTE SPEAKER GIVES ANALYSIS OF EUROPEAN WAR CAUSES

Many Conflicting National Ideals Tend to Prolong Struggle, Says Dr. Lowden—Thinks Poland Will Be Made Buffer State.

A good analysis of the conflict of national ideals which is leading to a prolongation of the European war was presented Thursday afternoon by Dr. Thomas Lowden before the Morgan County teachers at the institute. Dr. Lowden's topic was, "The Natural Study of the European War."

Dr. Lowden said that peace talk from German sources at this time is not surprising. Germany needs her colonies and in order to get them back at the close of the war, nothing would be better than a cessation of hostilities at the present high water mark of military success. The formation of Poland into a buffer state is regarded by Dr. Lowden as a strong probability. The superior of Russia by force of arms, men of the Fatherland are not overconfident, for as the speaker said, Germany fears Russia of the future.

"For more than one hundred years Russia has wanted an untrammelled outlet to Mediterranean waters. The opening of the Dardanelles would satisfy an age long desire and give the Russian empire, whose territory in Europe is greater than that of the other nations combined, a free outlet to the markets of the world. The product of measureless fields of wheat is needed to supply the future exporting nations, and a free passage to Constantinople would thus be of advantage to all the countries concerned. The speaker dwelt at some length upon the causes which have led smaller nations into the war. German court influence was in large part responsible for the entrance into Bulgaria. It was Germany's desire to have a free thoroughfare to the Orient that has strengthened the determination to keep Russia out of Turkey at all hazards and has resulted in the entrance of the Ottoman empire."

In closing the speaker expressed the hope that time of universal peace is near at hand. His illustrations were given with clearness and understanding and his presentation of the subject from a neutral point of view was quite successful. At the morning session Miss Anna Long sang, responding to an excellently rendered number with an encore "To You" by Ollie Speaks. In the afternoon Miss Marguerite Butler sang "The Seasons," by McFadden, responding also with an appropriate encore.

The institute session will continue today. Interest thruout the week has been excellent and County Superintendent Vasconcellos has been well pleased with the success of the institute sessions. A feature of interest is a special display of books on educational subjects prepared by the Jacksonville Public Library.

CHATTANOOGA MEDICINE COMPANY COMPLETES CASE

Chicago, June 8.—The Chattanooga Medicine company, makers of Wine of Cardui, completed its case today in its $100,000 libel suit against the American Medical association. Z. C. Patten, Jr., the surviving partner, was the last witness. He testified that he has always believed Wine of Cardui a valuable remedy for women's ills and that it is used in his own family and those of many of his friends. The defense began its rebuttal. It is expected that the case will go to the jury in a week or ten days.

PICK UP WAGON LOAD OF FEMINE WEAR

Chicago, June 8.—More than a wagon load of broken umbrellas, hairpins, ribbons of all shades and lengths, remnants of sashes bearing "votes for women" and other articles of feminine wear were picked up today along Michigan Boulevard and the other streets the women paraded on yesterday in their suffrage demonstration.

ROOSEVELT WANTS

FORMAL INVITATION

they are all standing on their heads anyhow.

As I noted before the Root boom began to make a noise like a millionaire yesterday it was in full and throaty auriferous chorus. Representatives of those heavy-armed, bolstered patriots to whom the colonel has referred as predaceous plutocrats and men with soft bodies and hard faces and so forth are shouting for Root.

Many Millionaire Supporters

It can safely be said that Mr. Root has more supporters who rate above a million dollars than any other candidate. If a man is a millionaire he wears one Root badge. If he has two millions he wears two badges, and Robert Bacon and some others tote their Root badges about in drays. The Root boom certainly has the ardent, not to say the affluent support of Mammon.

There are those who predict that the final struggle for the favor of this Republican convention will be between Root and Hughes, both good, safe men and members of this conservative club.

It may be so, but unless more is done for Mr. Root than splitting the New York delegation into two parts as a mark of esteem for him, one being for him and the other against him, and all because Bill Barnes de sires to defeat Herbie Parsons for national committeeman, there won't be any final struggle between Root and Hughes. The struggle will all be on the part of Mr. Root, as it is and has been since the beginning. The Root boom, as conserved, is an interior row between factions in New York state Republican politics and until this writing still a local provincial New York question.

Root Would Make Poor Candidate. However, there are many persons who affirm solemnly that Mr. Root would make a great president. The chief difficulty with Mr. Root seems to be that there is a broad and general impression that while he might make a most notable president he would make a very poor candidate—that is, poor so far as votes are concerned, but not poor in a fiduciary or emolumental sense.

And that recalls the Roosevelt patriot who went to Mr. Root not long ago and said: "Elihu, here is an opportunity to do a great and noble thing. Go to Chicago, arise in that convention and urge the delegates to nominate Roosevelt because the country needs him in this supreme crisis. You could do this, magnanimously and patriotically, couldn't you?"

"Yes," Mr. Root replied, with that gravity that bespeaks his great command of public questions, "I could do it for Roosevelt and so, too, could Roosevelt do the same thing for me." Having thus reached what we may term an impasse, the negotiations were broken off, pending further advice from the seat of war.

Squabble Over Suffrage Plank.

Meantime some things happened today, aside from the third day of rain, but most of the things bruited about as happening didn't occur. The Republican platform committee and the convention engaged in a most unvalorous squabble over the question of an equal suffrage plank wherein it was vividly recalled to them four hundred and twenty-seven times that women vote for president in twelve states and that each of these states is normally Republican. This, of course, wasn't a threat. It was merely a statement of fact. A rumor that gained currency to the disconcerting effect that the reason there was another row in the platform committee over the plank concerning the literacy test as applied to immigrants was that certain machiavellian members of the committee applied the test to other members of the committee, and these failed to pass. This, of course, can be denied on the highest authority. The members of the platform committee are all gentlemen and friends and none would stoop to such low intrigue to gain a point.

There is talk—oceans of it—of alliances, combinations, collusion, and adhesions, but the fundamentals have not changed, so far as the candidate situation is concerned. It is still Hughes against the field with the Republicans, and T. Roosevelt as the whole Progressive show.

Many persons are frightened over the prospect that Mr. Justice Hughes may decline the Republican nomination and the added intimation that Colonel Roosevelt may decline the Progressive nomination.

Wouldn't it be fierce if these declarations came to hand and we were forced to begin all over again. However, there is hope.

PROCLAIMS MUSTER DAY

FOREIGN MISSIONARY COMING TO JACKSONVILLE NEXT MONTH

Man Supported by Congregational Church Will Spend Some Time in This City.

Several years ago the members of the church and congregation of the Congregational church decided to support a foreign missionary or, in other words, to have a missionary pastor. For several years Rev. Leonard J. Christian has been the one and located at Foochow, China. Where also there is a Methodist plant but there is ample room for both as they are far apart and in no way overlap each other, while the city has a population of something like two hundred thousand.

It is the custom for each missionary to have a furlough once in eight years in order that he may rest up, get a change, keep in touch with home and friends and gather new ideas and the plan is most commendable.

Mr. Christian writes that he expects to sail from Yokohama, Japan, July 18th and be here some time in August. His home is at Wheaton and that of his wife in Ohio so that they will not put in as much time here as they would if they lived here but they will be here more or less during their stay in the United States. Both are charming people and will be received here most cordially while every effort for their welfare and happiness will be made. A letter directed to them within a week would reach them and be in time to be read on the way home. The missionary should be sent.

Rev. Leonard J. Christian, Yokohama, Japan, care S. S. "Empress of Russia," sailing July 18th. It will be a gracious act to send them a big bunch of letters to cheer them on their homeward voyage for none are more deserving than the brave men and women who carry the gospel to foreign lands.

AGED WINCHESTER WOMAN DRINKS CARBOLIC ACID

Takes Own Life After Uttering Fear That She Was Becoming Burden to Friends.

Winchester, Ill., June 8.—Declaring that she was old and helpless and becoming a burden upon friends and neighbors, Mrs. Elizabeth Suddeth, who for several years has been the lone occupant of a house in the northwest part of the town, put an end to her life Thursday evening by drinking carbolic acid. Mrs. Suddeth was almost totally deaf and for the past few weeks had been in failing health. A note by her bedside gave directions for finding a sum of money to aid in burial. On search of the cottage the sum was found to be but $4.85.

The body of Mrs. Suddeth was found by neighbors at 7:30 o'clock but a short time after the deed was done. A cup which had contained the poison was found by the bed, but there was nowhere any trace of bottle or other container. Dr. L. R. Day was called and on examination the physician found that the quantity of poison used had been ample. Severe burns were in evidence around the mouth and upon the victim's face and neck.

Mrs. Suddeth was seventy-three years old and had been a Winchester resident for about twenty-three years, coming here from Litchfield. In this community there are no living relatives.

A coroner's jury empaneled by M. W. Quinn, consisted of George E. Thomas, foreman; Dr. L. R. Day, clerk; William Ruark, John G. Trihey, A. J. Ezard and T. J. Hamilton. Upon brief deliberation at the home of the deceased, the jury brought in a verdict of death caused by the taking of poison with suicidal intent. The finding of the jury was turned over to M. W. Sappington, who took charge of the body. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial will be made in Winchester cemetery.

RUSSELL BOY WILL OPEN SEASON AT CLEVELAND NEXT MONTH

Owner Visits Quincy and Talks about His Celebrated Pacer.

Ellis Franks, of near Liberty, Ill., owner of the celebrated race horse, "Russell Boy," was in Quincy recently. Mr. Frank said that in fourteen races on the Grand Circuit last season "Russell Boy" won twelve, and in four races in the south finished first each time. The horse is well known here, having received much of his early training here at the hands of Mr. W. A. McDaniels.

He has a record of 2:02 1/4, but has done a mile, so Mr. Franks claims. In 1:58. Mr. Franks still has the mother and three full sisters are at Clayton being trained by Bob Harris.

Last season Russell Boy was driven by Geers, who this year is to drive his own horse, Napoleon Direct, whose track record is 2:00 3/4. Russell Boy's trainer and driver this season will be Tom W. Murphy of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., one of the most noted trainers and successful drivers in this country.

He now has Russell Boy at his farm near Poughkeepsie, grooming him for the big free-for-all for a $3,000 purse at Cleveland July 17. Some of the fastest pacers in the country are entered in this race, including Geer's Napoleon Direct. Mr. Franks expects to be there to witness the race.
